

Ken Duncan was recently described by A Current Affair as an “Iconic Australian image maker”.

Ken has been at the cutting edge of Australian landscape photography for the past 25 years and is well known for his passion to be constantly pioneering new frontiers within the photographic world.

Thanks to Ken’s ongoing quest for excellence, the Central Coast now boasts the largest privately owned photographic gallery in Australia. The complex also houses a state of the art theatre and The Sanctuary Café – all in a delightful bushland setting with an atmosphere of peace and tranquility. Within this expansive, purpose-built facility, Ken has created an entirely new experience that encompasses the arts of stills photography, moving images and food.

The Gallery is a real eye catcher from the outside. Architect designed and set amidst beautiful gardens and manicured lawns, the Gallery draws you in with its outward beauty. The elegant modern décor is warm and welcoming and everything has been designed to showcase the stunning diversity of our natural world – both inside the Gallery and out. High raked ceilings give an air of grandeur to the entry foyer where the first dazzling artworks greet you. As you wander among the products in the retail area, it is clear that attention to detail and premium quality are the keynotes of Ken’s collection.

Venturing on into the peaceful and spacious gallery space you are greeted by one majestic scene after another. After a quiet stroll amongst the magnificent artworks, you can take a break for coffee or a meal in The Sanctuary Café, where your order will be freshly prepared using only the very finest ingredients.

This new Central Coast attraction is a sanctuary where visitors can relax, contemplate the majestic beauty of creation and be inspired by the wide range of beautiful and unusual gifts. The Gallery is centrally located right on The Entrance Road at Erina Heights and provides ample parking for cars and buses plus easy access for wheelchairs.
